State Officials May be Implicated in Whiskey Plots

Federal Officials Intimated Today—Grand Jury is Considering Charge Against Nash

Sheriff Martinson Makes Written Statement of Case When He Resigned

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, May 15—High state officials may be implicated in the Winnipeg-Minneapolis whiskey smuggling plot, federal officials intimated today. The federal grand jury will meet again Monday to resume hearing on the case. Sheriff Oscar Martinson in changing his plea to guilty before Judge Page Morris Friday, submitted a detailed statement of the case to the court. A copy was identified by the federal grand jury. Others implicated in the case also submitted statements.

The jury is considering the charges against County Attorney Nash who has been relieved of his duties at his own request until the case is disposed of. Earle Brown was named sheriff by the Hennepin county board late yesterday to succeed Martinson.

Pennsylvania Still to Choose Republican Presidential Delegates

Wood Will Be Opposed Here by the Party Organization—Vermont Primary Next Tuesday (By HAROLD JACOBS)

New York, May 15—Pennsylvania with the second largest delegation is still among the states to choose representatives at the Chicago convention.

There is a general belief that Wm. Spurl will get practically a unanimous vote from his own state on the first ballot, but it is what Pennsylvania will do on the second and subsequent ballots that is bothering politicians.

Unlike the situation in many states where he has had support, Wood will be opposing the republican organization as he will not have the entire strength, as Senator Boise Penrose, state leader, will dominate the faction of the party conservatives against him. Providing Wood's boom died from malnutrition he will be put in a position to throw all personal strength he may possess to Knox, "favorite son." Knox of course, is the Penrose personal candidate.

Vermont will select eight delegates in the primaries Tuesday, but these are practically conceded to Wood.

On Friday, Johnson, Lowden and Wood will battle for Oregon's ten delegates in the last of the republicans "free-for-all" primaries.

The republican pre-convention campaign winds up May 25 with primaries in West Virginia and a state convention.

Peace Treaty Will Be Voted on Today

L. C. MARTIN.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Washington, May 15—The senate will dispose of the Knox peace resolution today. It is expected to adopt it and send it to conference with the house which recently adopted a similar resolution.

An early agreement in conference was predicted today by congressional leaders. Republicans said they want to get the resolution to the White House as soon as possible to get it vetoed before the national republican convention so that they can write into the party platform that president Wilson "kept us out of peace" by his attitude.

Voting will begin at 4 o'clock.

Shoes Half Profit Retailers Get One-Third

(United Press)

Washington, May 15—Half of what you pay for a pair of shoes is clear profit for the retailer, manufacturer, tanner and wholesaler, according to a survey of the shoe industry presented to the railroad labor board today by W. Jett Lauck, economic expert and former secretary of the national war labor board.

Retail dealers absorb more than one-third of the profit, Lauck told the board.

"Nicky" Arnstein Alleged Head of Bond Thieves

Who Has Been Hunted For Five Months by the Police, Voluntarily Surrenders

Been Hiding in Pittsburgh, Rode About City Through Police Lines Without Recognition

New York, May 15—A five months' search for "Nicky" Arnstein, alleged master mind in wholesale bond thefts from Wall Street brokers, was ended today when he walked into the district attorney's office here.

Arnstein arrived from Pittsburgh where he had been hiding, at 9 A. M., and motored to 90th street where he met his actress wife, Fannie Brice. Accompanied by Wm. J. Fallon, attorney, the party motored down Fifth Avenue and passed through long lines of policemen gathered for the annual parade.

As the automobile swung past Union Square Arnstein tipped his hat to high police officers who were gathered in the grandstand.

The automobile was driven two times around the court house without his being recognized. The first official to recognize Arnstein was Wm. Hanna, clerk of court. The news spread rapidly and large crowds gathered while Arnstein and his wife posed for pictures. Arnstein refused to talk regarding his experiences.

"I will tell about them tomorrow," he said.

"I am the happiest woman in the world," Fannie told photographers as she beamed happily at her husband.

M. J. Dowling Withdraws Name From Ballot

(By United Press)

St. Paul, May 15—M. J. Dowling, of Olivia, formally withdrew today as republican candidate for nomination for governor.

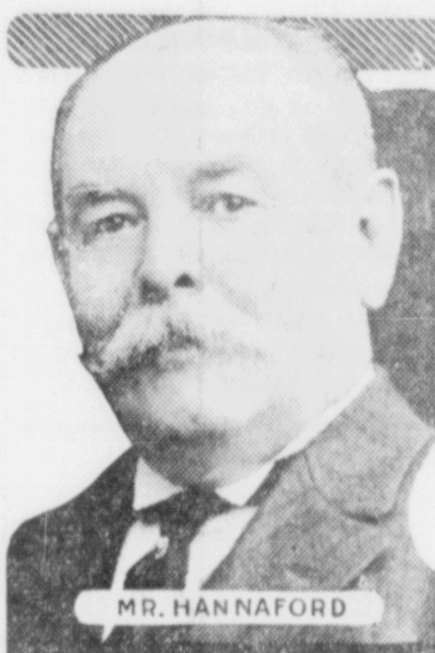

Mr. Dowling received the second largest vote on the first ballot endorsed in the state elimination convention a week ago when J. A. O. Preus was named for the nomination.

Julius Schmal and W. F. Schilling who refused to participate in the convention, have taken no steps to withdraw their names from the primaries.

Today, this 15th of May, A. D. 1920 is "Depot Day" in Brainerd. The civic celebration is one commensurate with the importance of the occasion, the formal opening of the new passenger depot of the Northern Pacific railway company.

Brainerd now possesses a depot which is the equal of any town of its size in the United States. Situated in the heart of Brainerd, easy of access, Brainerd's new depot gives the visitor in Brainerd a good impression, for here, he reasons, is a live, progressive city and a railway which favors a town with depot accommodations to match up to its importance.

The weather man gave Brainerd today the finest weather in his whole category. A light breeze blew and the sun shone warm and bright.

Forest Fires are Destroying Timber

Blown Down Timber Falls a Prey to Advancing Flames, State Forester on Scene

(By United Press)

St. Paul, May 15—Forest fires in the vicinity of International Falls, are destroying large tracts of blown down timber.

The fire started in the territory in which an effort was made last fall to sell the lumber to companies. The state relief board was called to meet at the time and it was said if the timber was not sold it was in danger of being destroyed by fire.

The dead and down timber belt which is reported to be burning is about twenty-five miles wide and the fire is difficult to handle.

Reports reaching here today, said State Forester Cox was at Bemidji and will leave for Craig with an additional force of fire fighters to prevent further spread of the flames. No fatalities have been reported.

Says Two Billion Pounds More Have Been Imported This Year Than Last

Washington, May 15—Continuing his demand for action by the government to improve the sugar situation, Senator Capper today issued a statement declaring this year's importation of sugar will exceed that of last year by two billion pounds, therefore doubting that an actual shortage exists. He reiterated his suggestion that sugar stocks should be seized by the government and rationed through the postoffice if no better way can be found.

Treaty with Germany to be Enforced

To be Carried Out in Every Respect, Particularly Regarding Disarmament. (By United Press)

Hythe, England, May 15—The treaty of peace with Germany will be enforced in every respect, particularly regarding disarmament, according to an official statement issued today following a conference here between Prime Minister Lloyd George and Premier Millerand.

The Spa conference was postponed until June 21, contingent on approval of the other countries effected. The report said that enforcement of the treaty "will not be postponed" until after the Spa meeting, and that the conference would in no way interfere with the allies determination to bring about immediate compliance with the disarmament term of the pact. Millerand tentatively agreed to fixing a definite sum for Germany's reparation.

Daniels Assails Naval Policy of Taft and Roosevelt

Declaring They Permitted Germany to Pass United States in Naval Development (By United Press)

Washington, May 15—Secretary Daniels assailed the naval policy of former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, declaring they permitted the United States to lose its place as the second naval power of the world and allowed Germany to pass us.

The greatest strides in the history of the navy were made under President Wilson, he declared.

Continuing his defense before the senate naval investigating committee, Daniels asserted the Wilson administration retrieved the navy from the position it drifted into under the "stand pat" policy of Roosevelt.

President Taft, he said, failed to recover the lost ground, and as a result the Wilson administration inherited the whole situation.

"Between March, 1912, and September, 1916, the navy increased in personnel, efficiency and material more than in any similar period in our history," Daniels asserted.

G. W. Horne (left) and J. T. Trippe

Flying was added to the list of college sports when forty undergraduates of eleven of the principal eastern colleges, all reserve aviators of the Army Air Service, competed at Mineola, Long Island. Many of the pilots had not handled a control for a year or more but there was only one accident and that was slight. Yale won the meet with nine points. G. W. Horne of Yale, with J. T. Trippe as observer, won the twenty-five-mile race, beating a University of Pennsylvania plane across the line by a scant 100 yards. The time was sixteen minutes. During the meet a new record for a machine carrying four men was established by Clarence Coombs, test

Beautiful Martinique.

Martinique, where 18 years ago occurred one of the worst volcanic disasters that human history has ever known, is one of the important islands of the West Indies retained by France in the desperate fighting for their possession. The capital, Fort-de-France, is an amazingly picturesque town at the head of a beautiful bay. Tourists have been prompted to term Martinique an ideal paradise. It is a lotus land of perpetual summer, with an endless variety of highlands and lowlands. Martinique also has the serpent of Eden, the dreaded fer de lance, which is the only poisonous snake found on any of the islands north of Trinidad. It oftentimes grows to a length of six feet, is quick and powerful, and its poison works almost instantaneously.

SHOULD PLAN CLOTHES AHEAD

Waiting Until Last Minute Results in Waste of Money and Much Dissatisfaction.

To the exorbitant price charged for wearing apparel for both men and women—the latter, especially—a great deal of attention has been paid by the newspapers throughout the country for the last few weeks. So far, notes a correspondent, there certainly does not seem to be any solution of the problem. About all that the various invitations and discussions have resulted in is an admission that clothes are outrageously high in price and that, according to all signs, they will continue so for many weeks, even months, to come.

Painful budgets have been submitted showing how economically women could dress if they would only try, but it is a regrettable fact that these budgets are largely "stunts" worked out for the sake of publicity by some would-be economist.

Women can, however, dress much more economically than most of them do if they will only give the subject of clothes sufficient real thought. The wardrobe for any season should be planned well in advance. It is waiting until the last minute and then rushing out to buy what must be had in a hurry that causes a waste of money and, unfortunately, dissatisfaction with the purchase in a great many instances.

If a woman gives intelligent attention to her wardrobe she can buy materials or garments that will give splendid service and satisfaction at comparatively reasonable prices. There are always odds and ends of clothes that may be made over and brought up to date if a woman only tries properly to make the most of the money she has to spend, and goes about the matter in a leisurely manner.

From the Earth to the Moon.
According to the Journal of the Royal Artillery, a shell with a muzzle velocity of five miles a second, if fired at the correct angle, would become an attendant satellite of the earth, and would go round it in a little less than one and a half hours. If the speed were increased to seven miles a second, the shell would go into space altogether.

Pup Had Not Had Influenza.
Johnny's aunt had not been getting around with her accustomed "pep" since she had had influenza, and often explained her lack of energy and slow movements generally by the simple statement that the flu certainly left one with no "pep."

Johnny was coming home with her in their sedan one afternoon and passed a pup playing with some children on the corner. The pup was a regular dynamo when it came to wriggling and jumping around.
"Well, I'll say that that pup never had the flu," remarked Johnny.

Belleau Wood Mapped by Marines.
A large relief map of the section of Belleau wood in which United States marines did such severe and heroic fighting during the war is being prepared by marine corps topographical experts.

The map will be 22 feet square, and will show the character of the terrain of a territory 16 miles square.

The data for the preparation of this map was secured by a mapping party of marines who just returned from France.

President's Daughter Who Is Charged With Helping Reds in Deportation Fight

Mrs. Francis B. Sayre

In a speech made in the national capital before the Washington Alaska Society, Representative Algert Johnson, of Washington, declared that Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, President Wilson's daughter, had gone to the aid of Mrs. Amy Collyer and her husband, held in Boston for deportation proceedings as radicals. Representative Johnson said that the Collyers, residents of Wellesley, Mass., are citizens of England. He quotes Mrs. Collyer as saying to the court, while resisting deportation: "We are living in a time when there is a frightful amount of force and violence in the world, and revolution has no terrors for me from that point of view."

THE SUGAR SITUATION

It is an admitted fact that the Cuban sugar crop last year was larger than the year before. It is also admitted that more sugar has been imported into this country during the year ending June 30 than was imported last year. There has been no failure of the domestic sugar crop. It might be expected therefore that there would be more sugar available this year than last.

Everybody knows that it is impossible to get as much sugar for household use as it was last year, or even during the war years. Everybody knows, too, that the price has almost trebled. And naturally, everybody wants to know the reason, and everybody is getting mad.

It is becoming quite clear that there is good reason for getting mad. There are, of course, some purely economic reasons for the apparent shortage. Herbert Hoover has pointed out that America and Europe have been bidding against each other for the sugar crop more strenuously than usual, and that naturally tends to send up prices. Both America and Europe are demanding more sugar than they used to demand, so that even the plentiful crop would hardly satisfy everybody even if it were equitably divided. Mr. Hoover proposes to share the crop by international arrangement, thereby putting an end to the "bidding up" of prices. And to supplement this measure, he would have the nation put on rationing again, to divide the sugar fairly among individuals.

Such action would certainly help matters, and the plan deserves the government's attention. But this is only half the story. The other half is not a matter of ordinary economics at all, but a matter of human greed.

The fact is that the sugar supply has been cornered by speculators. Sugar, raw and refined, has been held, and is being held, in enormous quantities, partly to take advantage of the international bidding referred to, and partly to create an abnormal scarcity by withdrawing the sugar from the market, and thereby forcing prices still higher. If the government would get after these speculators in earnest, it would make the public feel better immediately, and would undoubtedly cause a general loosening up of the supply, a moderate reduction of prices and some assurance of enough sugar for the approaching canning season.

Between international and domestic rationing on one hand and putting a lot of unprincipled profiteers in jail on the other, the situation could be improved considerably even at this late hour.

HOUSECLEANING TIME

This is the time of the year when wives become possessed by an uncontrollable desire to houseclean. What brings it on no more man has ever been able to discover. A man is satisfied to let things be. The place looks all right to him. He sees no reason for all this disturbance. He is satisfied with the curtains as they are. He is content to have the pictures hang in the same old place and at the same old angle. The arrangement of the furniture is quite good enough for him. But are his protestations to this effect any avail? None whatever. Everything has to be taken up or taken down or moved about or turned inside out.

Now man is the most methodical creature on earth. He does everything regularly—leaves the house daily at the same minute, returns to all his meals punctually, does everything regularly from force of habit. A hundred unconsidered acts he does the same today as yesterday, and would do the same tomorrow were he allowed to. Everything has a fixed place with him. He knows exactly how many steps to take going upstairs, this knowledge being sedulously cultivated for use on the one or two occasions during the year when he misses his regular hour of getting home at night.

But what does spring housecleaning do to him? It not only interrupts his peace for the time being, but if, by some extraordinary and unforeseen circumstances, he is kept out later than usual at this time, he no sooner gets into the house than he bumps into one piece of furniture after another, and after stealthily preparing to retire he probably drops into the cedar chest instead of into the bed which always formerly stood in that spot.

Altogether housecleaning time is pretty hard on husbands, but what do wives care? Husbands are fully justified in believing that wives go in for this job not because it is necessary but out of sheer perversity. —Saskatoon, Sask., Star.

BUDGETING CONGRESS

There are signs at last of a reform for which president after president has begged, and which congress after congress has ignored or postponed—a congressional budget system. Late in the public has taken a hand, and the law-makers have thought it wise, with election drawing near, to do something about it. So each branch of congress has passed a fairly good bill, and a conference committee is now reconciling the two.

It used to be said by experienced officials that the government could save $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 a year by means of a scientific plan for appropriations which would eliminate the "pork" and prevent duplications and errors. That was out of an annual expenditure of about $1,000,000,000. During the war it was recognized that billions were wasted. With expenses still running virtually on a war-time volume, and with little prospect of any great curtailment of necessary expenditures for some years, it is imperative that the waste be held as low as possible. It is imperative, too, that congress in its routine work get down to a basis of real efficiency—something which cannot be done while the old, chaotic appropriation methods continue.

If half a billion dollars a year can be saved by having all expenditure estimates passed on and systematized by experts in the treasury department, and if a quarter of the congressmen's time is saved by the process, it will certainly be worth while—particularly if the congressmen devote that saved time to constructive legislation.

THE VACANT LOT

"Clean up the vacant lots!" begs one of these enthusiastic clean-up-weekers, and probably he is right. Many vacant lots are an eyesore and a menace to the health of the neighborhood. But must we clean up the vacant lots so thoroughly that the children will not want to play there any more?

There is a vacant lot in a certain very nice neighborhood, where lawns as a rule are uninspiringly orderly, and back yards so seemly that there is nothing left to stir the imagination. And talk about a happy hunting ground! There are caves in that vacant lot where bandits hide; there are trenches where brave men die; there are log huts that are almost big enough to crawl into; there are stoves built of stone with bits of stovepipe for chimneys; there are "swell" places to hide; there are spaces of sand bank where a fellow and a girl, too—can slide down, with or without a board. There is room enough for a game of catch, in the center of the lot, and after a good, hard rain there is a pool deep enough to float a raft. Oh, days on the Mississippi!

Let us clean up the vacant lots if we must, but not too clean. There isn't much of any place left in the world for children, especially boys about twelve. Let's leave the vacant lots for them.

BOLSHIEVSKI SILENT

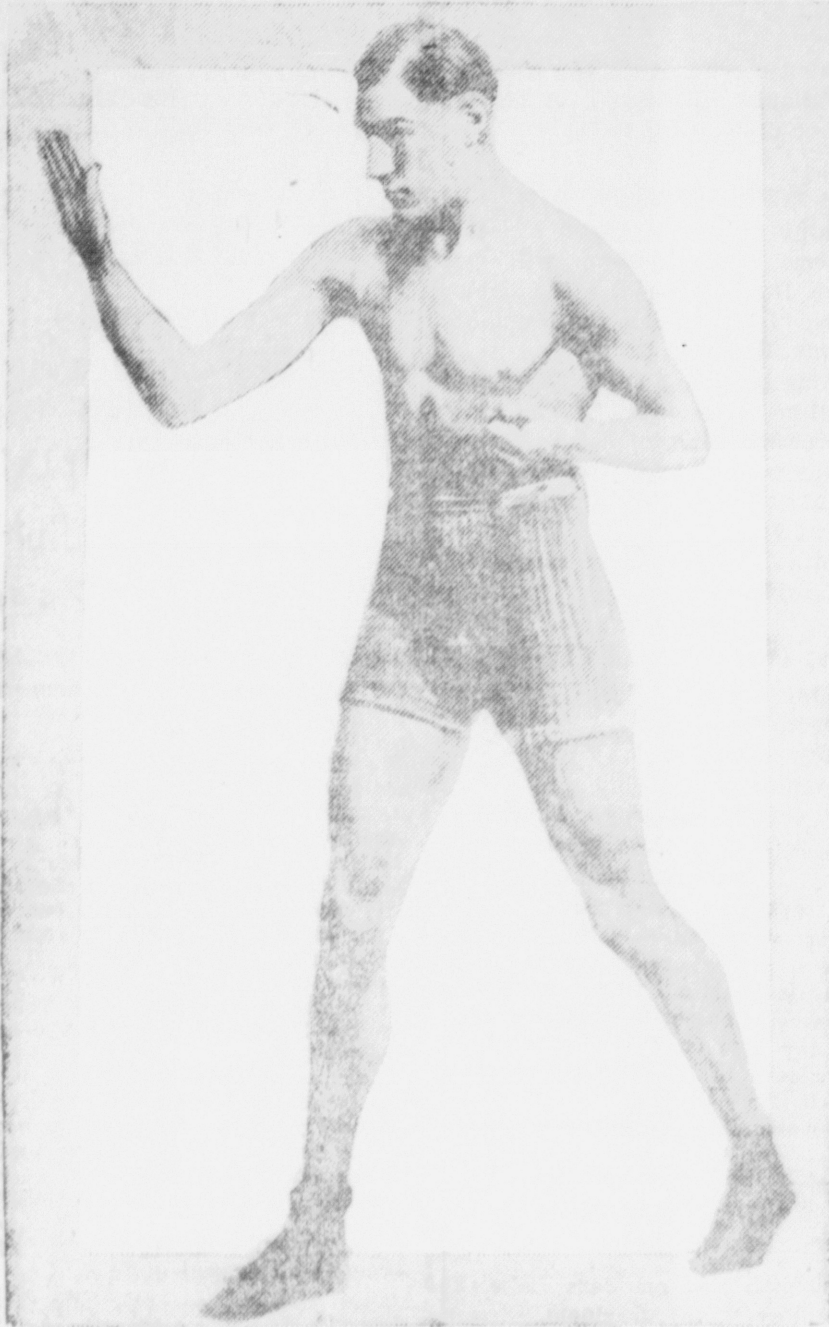

A Bolshievski silent seems to alarm the world just as much as the talkative kind. Since Sunday, 2 P. M., the Bolshievski wireless station at Moscow has ceased sending out notices. It stopped short in the middle of a sentence and then sputtered to nothingness.

Experts in all the stations of Europe are puzzled over the fact. Some feeling a household has when baby is cooed, everybody imagining the kid is sick or has swallowed something.

Hair-Net Construction.

Human hair goes through many processes before reaching the user in the shape of a hair net, and the best are claimed to be made from hair prepared in England. The hair is bleached, chemically treated to reduce its thickness, and then dyed and combed into lengths ready for netting. After being thus treated it is sent to China to be distributed through properly appointed agencies and made into nets by hand by natives.

Middleweight Champion Whose Defeat of Mike O'Dowd Surprised the Boxing Fans

The defeat of Mike O'Dowd, world's middleweight champion, by Johnny Wilson was as great a surprise to boxing fans as to the former title holder himself. The new champion is an Italian named Giovanni Panica, a native of New York City, where he was born twenty-seven years ago last March, but he has lived in Boston for the last six years. Wilson is a southpaw. He stands with his right arm extended, much in the manner of Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight.

Look in the Sewing Bag.

Robbed of His Support.

With reference to the road mender who fell down last week and injured himself an explanation has now been given. It appears that the colleague next to him must have moved.—London Punch.

Decisive in Refusal.

When you do not intend to pay a bill there is nothing like being decisive in your refusal. The other day a book-seller had an "account rendered" returned to him with the following reply scribbled across the billhead: "Dear Sir: I never ordered this beastly book. If I did, you didn't send it. If you sent it, I never got it. If I got it, I paid for it. If I didn't I won't. New go and hang yourself, you fat-head. Yours very respectfully, John Jones."

AMUSEMENTS

New Park Today and Tomorrow

Robert Warwick in "An Adventure in Hearts," a screen version of Anthony Hope's well-known novel "Captain Dieppe," will be the attraction at the New Park theatre for two days beginning today. The story is of the same romantic-adventure type which Mr. Hope made famous in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Mr. Warwick has the role of an American of French descent, who having just completed a delicate diplomatic mission for a foreign government, is being hounded by secret agents lest he betray the details of the affair. He seeks shelter in the castle of an Italian count, whose wife and he, newly estranged, are living in opposite wings of the castle. The Countess is being threatened by a gentleman blackmailer to whom she owes gambling debts and has secretly installed her pretty girl cousin in her place while she goes to Rome to raise the money. A romantic love affair, a thrilling rescue at a swollen ford, and a gun fight in a blazing hut feature the development of the plot from this point.

Helene Chadwick is Mr. Warwick's leading woman and Winifred Greenwood, Walter Long and Howard Gaye are included in the cast. The picture is a Paramount-Artcraft and was directed by James Cruz.

A Terrorist.

An artist was sketching from the river bank near two friends who were fishing. The artist was at one time surrounded by cows which interfered with his view, and he tried to drive them away by throwing things at them, but they would not budge. At length one of the anglers cried: "Show them your sketch, old man!" He did so, and the offenders fled.

What the Pitcher is Not Allowed to Do

(By John B. Foster)

In the new issue of Spalding's Official Baseball Guide the "fan" will find exactly what the pitcher must not do under the rules as they have been amended for 1920.

He must not rub the ball in the soil.

He must not discolor it with licorice.

He must not expectorate upon it.

He must not roughen the surface with sand paper, emery paper, or other hard substance. He will not even be permitted to bound it to an infielder, in order that the cover may be slightly abraded.

No other player is permitted to commit any of the above offenses and toss the ball to the pitcher for delivery. If the pitcher delivers the ball to the batter after this is done he is arbitrarily suspended for ten days.

The correct position for the pitcher to assume when he receives the ball for delivery is to stand on the plate holding it in front of him with both hands. He cannot take either hand from the ball unless he is intending to throw it to first base or deliver it to the batter.

If he drops the ball in the act of delivering it to the batter it is a balk. This latter now makes the balk rule uniform in both leagues. It had not been so previously.

OPENING LUM PARK FRIDAY

Pavilion Crowded With Dancers. Park Has Lost None of Its Popularity With People

JOHNSON'S ORCHESTRA PLAYS

Requests for Encores are Frequent. Scores of Automobile Parties Attended Dance

Lum Park was formally opened Friday evening with a dance at the pavilion and the large crowd in attendance attested the fact that the park has lost none of its popularity.

Managed by A. K. Gumaer of the park board, every detail was looked after with attention. Park and grounds, buildings and all equipment were in A No. 1 condition.

As gentle summer has not yet put in its appearance, the lake breezes were shut out of the pavilion by putting up a line of shutters on the lake side and this contributed to make the temperature more equable.

Johnson's orchestra furnished the music and applause was frequent, the orchestra being generous in its encores. The dance program was a varied one so that everyone was satisfied. There was a big sale of refreshments and hat and wrap checking was patronized to the fullest extent. Automobile parties by the score made the trip and many also came from the range.

It is intended to give the Friday night dances regularly and if every one is as well attended as was this first one, a most successful season is assured at Lum park.

WEEKLY FORUM LUNCHEONS

Membership at Billings Commercial Club "Colonized", Each Putting Up Special Program

Fred T. Lincoln, secretary, writes that the Billings Commercial club has hit upon a successful plan of encouraging interest in the weekly forum lunches held in the club cafe which is working out to the satisfaction of the house committee, originators of the idea.

The club membership is made up of business and professional men who came west from eastern and southern states comparatively a few years ago, for the city has grown from a frontier town of a few inhabitants in 1882 to a modern city of approximately 20,000 people.

The membership has been "colonized", that is those members from certain states grouped and each colony divides honors in planning the forum program and even the menu each week. The Missouri colony advertised themselves as from the "Show Me" state and asked the question, "Why Billings?" Five minute talks pro and con on the subject of the city's advantages and its disadvantages, if any, were made with the result that some valuable ideas and suggestions were brought out and a good attendance obtained. The Missourians arranged with the club caterer to serve corn bread and sweet potatoes as features of the menu. Other colonies have handled the forum and luncheon with equal success.

Spontaneous Combustion.
Because the hollow fibers of cotton are loaded with oxygen they burn with a quick flash. When you add to cotton, which is already loaded with oxygen, oil, which is also loaded with oxygen, the excess of oxygen is likely sooner or later to make the cotton burst into flame. That is how spontaneous combustion occurs among oily rags.—Youth's Companion.

Roadside Picnics

When the lunch is spread and the hamper opened, the first thing the motor party wants is a refreshing, cooling drink. A phone call to your dealer will bring it. Order by the case, or keg—and ask for it at the soda fountains.

Mahogany.

Mr. William Ransleigh introduced mahogany into England in 1567. He had used the timber to repair one of his ships. While the wood found many admirers at that time, it did not become of commercial value until 150 years later. Different varieties of mahogany are found in Africa, Japan, United States, Philippine Islands, India and Australia.
